

Council hears variety of complaints

By JOHN CURRY
Post Staff Writer

Complaints on a wide variety of subjects came from the audience and councilmen at Monday night's Daly City City Council meeting — a gathering that drew as many people for what wasn't accomplished as what was.

Mrs. Roseanne Emerson, 594 Gellert Blvd., president of the Serramonte Homeowners Association, told the council she had been informed that two pedestrians nearly had been run down by cars on Hickey Boulevard between Gellert and the Interstate 280 northbound on-ramp at night recently, because not all of the street lights on that stretch are lit.

There are two lamps on each pole in that area, but only one is lit, and that apparently isn't enough, she said. She added that she had heard those lights had been turned out as an energy-saving measure.

That is correct, City Manager David R. Rowe replied. He said both lamps on the poles at street intersections are lit at night, but others have been disconnected.

It's dangerous to walk on Hickey the way it is, Mrs. Emerson pointed out.

The council directed City Engineer Clarence Mobley to look into it.

Mrs. Emerson also asked that the city determine the need for a traffic light at Shipley Avenue and Margate Street, a blind intersection at which a child was killed two years ago.

She also said she had heard the city was considering hiring a full-time city attorney, remarking, "I think Mr. (Albert) Polonsky (the present part-time city attorney) has been a criminal lawyer too long and it shows in his dealings with people. You must remember, we are lay people."

"I hadn't heard that one yet," Councilman James Tucker said of the full-time city attorney story.

Ernest Pezzola, a co-chairman of the Original Daly City Protective Association, asked the council why the city — after 20 years of contracting with the Daly City Scavenger Co. to do its billing — still is getting only 10 cents per billing, "even though the scavengers have had many raises in the rates over the years."

City costs for handling the billing obviously have gone up in that time, Pezzola said, adding it seemed to him that the council should get more for this service.

Not really, Rowe said. The dime was "an arbitrary figure" and "we're making money even at 10 cents. If we raised the price, it would be a straight pass-through on the scavenger bills to the customers," he explained.

The scavenger billing is done with the water billing, both of which have been computerized in more recent years.

"Because the garbage bill is a constant," it requires much less computer time and effort than the fluctuating water charges, based on ever-changing usage, Rowe explained.

Councilman Anthony Giammona chipped in with his gripe about the graffiti that has appeared on every local public installation "and has become especially bad in the last couple of years."

Spray-painted graffiti is all over schools, bus shelters, and every other public facility, he charged. "The problem is really getting out of hand in Daly City," Giammona went on.

Councilman Albert Teglia commented that the League of California Cities convention delegates recently voted to support state legislation that would make it illegal to sell cans of spray paint to minors.

Polonsky said he would check on what current law says. Councilman William Schumacher said he has heard of a new law becoming effective Jan. 1 that holds parents responsible for defacing of this type.

Rowe got into the act, advising the council that it should do something to stop Pacific Gas and Electric Co. from selling a parcel of land it owns at Junipero Serra Boulevard and Westlake Avenue.

The city sees that lot as a public parking garage in conjunction with an adjacent 10-story office building being considered by a Canadian developer, Rowe reminded, and the parcel must be preserved until ready for development.

The council authorized Polonsky to take whatever steps are needed to head off a sale temporarily, while the council, sitting as the city Redevelopment Agency, and the city Project Area Committee, consider possible city acquisition of the parcel.

The city either could build the garage itself for public parking or sell the land to the office building developer for parking for that building's tenants.

On the regular agenda items, about half the meager crowd of two dozen didn't get what it had come for — yet.

The council put over until Jan. 28 a request for preferential parking on the 300 blocks of Willits, Woodrow and Miriam streets, the 600 block of San Diego Avenue, 700 block of Niantic Avenue and 800 block of Brunswick Street.

The request, backed by signed petitions from the residents of each of the blocks, originated last August but was carried over for a staff report and then the long BART strike, which was settled in late November.

Daly City initiated its preferential parking plan in 1978, which restricts parking to residents during working hours on the streets around the BART station. The idea is to discourage BART commuters from clogging the residential streets.

But these latest petitioners reside on blocks south of John Daly Boulevard, across the busy thoroughfare from the BART station, and a staff survey of parking spaces in early fall showed many open. But the staff also recommended that another survey be done after the BART strike.

Monday night it was reported that only one block had been surveyed since the strike ended and more time was needed.

Also carried over was a public hearing on a zone change, use permit and subdivision application from American Development Corp. for its 63-unit Parkwood condominium project at Southgate Avenue and Cerro Drive, this one to Jan. 14.

The council put over to Jan. 14 its capital budget for the year and set Jan. 7 for hearing on sixth-year funding for its Community Development Block Grant program.

In connection with that, a memo from Planning and Community Development Director Don Fleming said that the possibility should be explored of replacing a proposed city multi-purpose center at the "Top of the Hill" — on Mission Street — with an "economic development (commercial) project" or parking garage.

Mayor Victor Kyriakis said the multi-purpose center has been criticized because of its projected cost in the wake of Proposition 13 and that many people, including downtown merchants, think a parking garage is needed much more.

AWARD-WINNER

Staff Writer Terry Davenport

Post staff writer wins state award

Reporter Terry Davenport received a statewide award Friday for educational reporting from the California School Boards Association.

The award, presented with a check for $50 before an audience of 4,000 CSBA members attending the organization's annual convention in San Francisco, was for an article she wrote about a new computer teaching program in the Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City.

The article appeared last January in both the San Mateo Times and the Daly City Post.

Ms. Davenport was the statewide winner in the newspaper article division of CSBA's contest in the category, "Newspapers with a Circulation of Under 50,000."

Two other winners were chosen for articles in newspapers with different-sized circulations and three winners were selected for editorials in the three circulation categories.

Ms. Davenport, who has worked as a reporter for The Times and its North County publications since February 1977, was the recipient of the California Teachers Association's 1978 statewide award for Best Educational Reporting by an Individual.

Vale Street residents happy after winning duplex battle

Some Vale Street residents went home happy from the Daly City City Council meeting Monday night after learning that their neighborhood will not be invaded by a duplex development after all.

The residents had protested bitterly to the council Oct. 15 that the application then, for a subdivision of an 86.8-by-101.7-foot lot just west of Mission Street into three parcels, with a duplex to go on each, wasn't in keeping with the single-family home character of their neighborhood, and the council denied the application.

Up for reconsideration Monday night was only the resubdivision into the three lots, with architect Harold Dow of San Francisco explaining that "We're willing to adhere to any suggestions" and that whatever the single-family homes look like, "I guarantee we'll use no exposed redwood," referring to a nearby home that has raised criticism from neighbors for its use.

The council approved the subdivision, with the developer now to go to the Planning Commission with his design.

Mrs. Guido Merlini, 74 Vale St., who spoke most eloquently against the duplex plan in October, told the council Monday, "You won't have any trouble from us with single-family homes there."

The council also accepted a proposal from the engineering consulting firm of Harris and Associates for final design, specifications and cost estimates of the new Lincoln Park. That phase of the job should be done within 90 days at a cost not to exceed $16,500.

The high cost of borrowing money is reflected in a new loan "leveraging" agreement approved by the council Monday night with Security First National Bank, which has set interest rates on Community Development Block Grant loans at 13 percent.

The federally-funded program is designed to help low-income families finance needed home improvements and repairs. Daly City has been using its CDBG money to subsidize some of the interest on the loans its help obtain from the bank for these residents. Under the new agreement, the city would subsidize part of the interest on the loan so the borrower would pay only between 3 and 10 percent, depending on what he could afford.

Mrs. M. Barbara Hill, the city's rehabilitation coordinator, reported that the current agreement with Security Pacific expires today. She said also she is to talk with Wells Fargo Bank people later this month about a new loan plan by that bank that may lead to lower-interest loans.

"Are rates going down?" Mayor Victor Kyriakis asked.

"This Wells Fargo program is new, so I don't know yet," Mrs. Hill said.

City Engineer Clarence Mobley reported to the council that Daly City has a "credit" of $272,000 in state gasoline tax funds on deposit with San Mateo County. This means that with matching one-third and two-thirds funding ratios by the county, the city could spend up to $408,000 on street projects with its share.

But although the county has extended the time for using the money until next June 30, it hasn't allocated any more money, Mobley said, leading him to understand that what's on hand must be used by June 30.

He said he had in mind using an estimated $150,000 of the funds for improving the left-turn lanes on Gellert Boulevard between Hickey and Serramonte boulevards and $200,000 for widening of Sullivan Avenue and improved traffic signals at Sullivan and Eastmoor Avenue.

Mobley said he would try for a two-thirds contribution from the county, to be obligated by June 30.

Councilman James Tucker suggested that Sullivan, the busy traffic arterial between the Civic Center area and Mary's Help Hospital, be made one-way from the Interstate 280 off-ramp south to Eastmoor Avenue to ease the congestion and confusion there. Mobley said he would investigate the possibility.

The council authorized an extension to an agreement with the Guadalupe Valley Municipal Improvement District until next June 30 for fire and police services in the Crocker Industrial Park, adjacent to Brisbane.

The city has been providing these public safety services for $100,000 a year since Jan. 1, 1975.

City Manager David R. Rowe told the council, "We're making money on this," which led resident George Kirchubel to ask, in light of rising costs, "When will you stop making money?"

Kyriakis replied that "It won't stop this year, at least."

Rowe said the city of Brisbane has promised to under-bid Daly City for the contract if it gets a chance, but hasn't yet because negotiations have never been re-opened.

In other business the council:

Authorized application for $80,000 more in state park bond funds for development of Hillside Park, bringing that application to $125,000.

Developer eyes beach project

By HEIDI VAN ZANT
Post Staff Writer

Pacific City Manager Al St. Cyr revealed Monday that a private developer is interested in redeveloping Rockaway Beach.

His announcement gave a boost to city efforts to revitalize the beachside neighborhood that St. Cyr proposes to turn into another Carmel.

A Redevelopment Agency was formed last fall to set up the financial mechanism for making improvements to the area. Under that concept, a portion of the property taxes are channeled into the agency to be used for capital improvements.

The City Council was expected Monday to lend the agency $50,000 out of the city's general fund as "front money" for planning the redevelopment effort.

However, St. Cyr surprised the council by asking that no action be taken just yet on the loan, because a potential developer has contacted the city.

"It changes everything that was proposed here," said St. Cyr, who also held off on asking the council to give initial approval to hiring of a San Jose planning firm to work on the project.

If a developer does assist the city in redeveloping Rockaway Beach, St. Cyr said after the meeting, the redevelopment agency would go ahead with buying the land needed for the project.

That land could be leased to the developer, who would pay an annual rent to the Redevelopment Agency.

According to St. Cyr, the advantages to this proposal are that there is less financial risk to the city (because the developer bears the cost of construction) and there would be fewer "headaches" for the city.

The City Council unanimously reaffirmed its commitment to the Redevelopment Agency and was told the city manager would report back to them Jan. 14.

Councilman Nick Gust did not participate in the discussion because of a possible conflict of interest. He owns two restaurants and a small motel in Rockaway Beach.

Although the planning of the redevelopment project is in the infant stages, St. Cyr said recently that he envisions the area being turned into a fishing village-type of tourist attraction.

He has recently visited the Port O'Call Village in Los Angeles and Seaport Village in San Diego.

Council commends students

The Jefferson High School varsity football team and two new Eagle Scouts were commended by the Daly City City Council Monday night for their accomplishments.

Councilman Al Teglia moved for the commendation to Jefferson, "my alma mater," with the second from Mayor Victor Kyriakis. "We won the NPL (North Peninsula League) championship this year," Teglia chuckled, looking straight at fellow Councilman and Westmoor High School Athletic Director Anthony Giammona. The vote for the commendation was unanimous.

"What's the name of that team, the Cardinals?" Councilman James Tucker quipped, alluding to Stanford University's change of team name from Indians to Cardinals several years ago.

"No, it's still the Indians," Teglia replied.

Teglia and Giammona did the honors in presenting official certificates of commendation to Eagle Scouts Paul Sangervasi and Peter Nave, both students at Westmoor High, for attaining their Eagle badges.

Sangervasi's Eagle project was a swim-a-thon for muscular dystrophy which raised $700. Nave constructed an apparatus to assist children in learning to read.

SamTrans to resume airport, D.C. link

SamTrans Route 3B, which links San Francisco International Airport with BART-Daly City, will resume operations Dec. 17.

Inside Today

• People with character are drawn to sports, says Le Pacini, sports columnist for The Post. See his report on Page 15.

• The Daly City-Colma Skylions have planned a Dec. 22 show for the entire family. For a full story plus two photos of the entertainers, turn to Page 6.

• What's going on at Serramonte and Jefferson high schools? See what our student columnists have to say on Pages 16 and 9C.

Service on 3B had been suspended during the BART shutdown, and SamTrans buses previously used for the airport run were diverted for direct trips from North County locations to downtown San Francisco.

Heavily patronized by air travelers and workers at the airport, Route 3B serves Stonestown, Westlake and BART in the North County, and is routed on El Camino Real between Buri Buri and San Bruno Avenue. From the airport, the route extends south to Millbrae Avenue and Burlingame Plaza.

In another post-shutdown move, SamTrans has announced that it will return to its pre-shutdown schedule of service into San Francisco and discontinue the special bus runs and North County route extensions in effect over the past three months.

Those runs, originally destined for the Daly City BART station, again will terminate there as of next Monday.

ON WITH THE SHOW

These dancers, from the Lee Lane Dance Studio in Millbrae, will highlight the entertainment program at the annual Holy Angels Latin Club Christmas party at Holy Angels School, 107 San Pedro Road, Colma, from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday. All children in Colma, Daly

City and Broadmoor are invited. Also to be featured will be the traditional pinatas and hamburgers donated by Richard Slatter and Miss Margaret Slatter, co-owners of a McDonald's restaurant in Daly City. Daly City Police Lt. Phil LaBruzzo again has arranged for a visit by Santa Claus. The club has asked for donations of money or wrapped gifts, the latter labeled for boys or girls of ages one to 14. The dancers are, left to right, Staci Hopper, Toni Hopper, Allison Hopper and Ellinor Hadley.

Members of the Beta Sigma Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority will hold their annual Christmas party Saturday evening at Val's Redwood Room in Daly City.

This is the chapter's major holiday social event and includes the husbands, friends and members from sister chapters in the festivities.

A little pre-holiday shopping for the party was done at the sorority's bazaar in San Jose. The annual fundraiser was hosted by the Bay Peninsula Regional Council and benefitted the California Aid to Retarded Program and St. Jude's Research Hospital.

Secret Sisters will be revealed and gifts exchanged at the annual Christmas potluck dinner being sponsored by the local chapter of Alpha Iota sorority.

Mrs. Edna Bardine will be hostess for the party at 7 p.m., Saturday.

Mrs. Louise Enberg of South San Francisco, the executive director of Friends Outside, is seeking contributions for a gift package to go to the women in the San Francisco County Jail.

Each year Friends Outside collects items for the women who will be incarcerated during the holidays.

Candy, raisins, potato chips, shampoo, soaps, toothbrushes, toothpaste, stationery, toiletries of all types and novelties are included in the parcels.

Persons interested in contributing items or time should call the Friends Outside office, 863-5100.

Second thoughts for councilmen

Fireworks flew at the San Bruno City Council meeting Monday night when two councilmen had second thoughts about a proposal to adopt a job description for an administrative assistant.

With Councilman Gary Mondtrans absent and the other four split on the proposal, it soon became apparent that City Manager Gerald Minford wouldn't get the council approval he needs in order to fill the job.

If hired, the person would assist both Minford and the full-time city attorney the council plans to hire.

Councilman Douglas Dawkins led off the discussion by objecting that he didn't want the new employees to become a buffer between Minford and persons registering complaints with the city.

Minford replied, "I have always been available to receive calls whether I had an assistant or not."

Dawkins said he considered the proposal "pre-mature" because "we've got this city attorney's thing."

He was referring to the controversy over hiring a full-time city attorney while part-time City Attorney Joseph Gelligan continues to battle for his job in court.

An exasperated Councilman Thomas Ricci countered, "It seems to me we've been talking about this for a long time." He added that he didn't see how the proposal was related to the subject of the city attorney.

At this point Minford pointed out that the council previously had approved a budget for the administrative assistant's salary and that he only was asking the council to approve the job description.

"I didn't realize we were talking about whether or not we would have it," Minford said, adding that the city already has received 170 applications for the job.

When Dawkins said he believes the city attorney and the city manager should have separate secretaries, Councilman John Barnard said he agreed. Ricci noted that he and Barnard had both opposed the idea of a full-time city attorney to begin with. (That plan was approved with a 3-2 vote of the council.)

Minford said he didn't like the idea of sharing an assistant either, but said that proposal was the best one he could come up with, given the council's directions.

He again pointed out that the council already had budgeted for the position and that the council's failure to approve a job description for the position would be tantamount to rescinding its earlier action.

Mayor Richard Griffith said, "My vote would normally be no because I don't think we should have the position."

Barnard suggested that the council postpone the discussion.

That was too much for Ricci, who said, "I guess it's called 'election fever.'" (Griffith, Mondtrans and Barnard's terms expire next spring.)

He blasted his fellow council members, saying, "I have accused our council of deliberating well past the time a decision should be made." Noting that Minford has 175 applications for the job in hand, Ricci said, "And now we have second thoughts and I don't appreciate it."

He added that he also doesn't appreciate going to meetings outside San Bruno and hearing people laugh about the council.

"If you were working at this for a living, you'd be fired for the types of decisions you don't make... If you want to put up, put up. If you don't, shut up," the angry Ricci said.

He went on to declare, "I want the public to know that these are delaying tactics," and he said those tactics "are creating tension on the (city) staff."

Minford was angry, too. He complained about the council's "vacillation in decision-making," saying, "One councilman doesn't show up and bingo! We suddenly have a change in policy."

His voice tense with rage, Minford explained that the city had invested many hours in reviewing the 175 applications. "I need a direction in which the council wants us to go. Give me a direction and I'll go in that direction, but don't keep changing the road markers."

Barnard said he thought the only sensible thing to do would be to continue the discussion until the next meeting. "It's too bad the election is coming up because I think you can expect quite a bit of this," he said, adding that he has already declared he will not seek re-election.

Griffith maintained, "I have no change of heart about this thing." But he added that he didn't see any point in postponing the item for a month.

The frustrated Minford explained that deciding not to hire the administrative assistant would mean that the city would have to assign a full-time secretary to the new city attorney's office because Minford's own secretary is already swamped with work.

When Dawkins said he agrees with the idea of hiring a full-time secretary for the full-time city attorney, Ricci said, "I wish you'd decided that when you considered the expense of changing to a full-time city attorney."

Criticizing Dawkins for changing his mind, Ricci noted, "This is an asinine time to even discuss it."

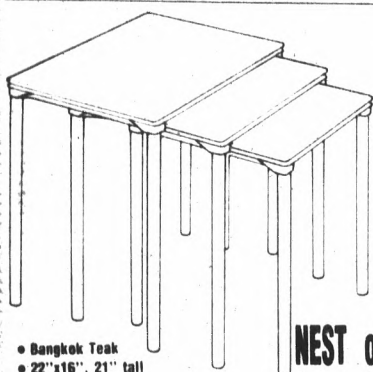

His face red with anger, Dawkins demanded time to reply to Ricci's "personal attack."

"You like to lay back and jump in behind me every time I make a statement you tend to disagree with," he told Ricci, accusing the councilman of "poor sportsmanship." He declared that Ricci wouldn't get his vote even if he filibustered all night.

Ricci replied, "Mr. Dawkins, you're a big boy." He denied "jumping behind" him and Dawkins could respond to anything he wanted.

Ricci continued to hammer, "I don't understand why you've changed your mind at the last minute... do you realize the amount of money that has already been spent on this process?"

Minford said, "We seem to make decisions three or four times."

North county residents in armed forces

CRISEX 79

Marine 1st Lt. John R. Gerhardt, son of Jack R. and Carol Gerhardt of 1840 Louvain Drive, Colma, recently participated in exercise "Crisex 79."

He is the embarkation officer of the 32nd Marine Amphibious Unit based at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The 10-day operation conducted in the southeastern part of Spain was designed to increase the proficiency of combined forces of U.S. and Spanish Marines in joint operations. It stressed Spanish and U.S. Marine amphibious and armored mechanized operations, and was observed by many dignitaries, including the King of Spain.

A 1973 graduate of Westmoor High School, Daly City, and a 1977 graduate of California State University, Fresno, with a bachelor of science degree, Gerhardt joined the Marine Corps in June 1977.

COMPLETES TRAINING

Navy Seaman Apprentice Logan R. Calvo, son of George H. and Maria E. Calvo of 73 Eastwood Ave., Daly City, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1974 graduate of Westmoor High School, he joined the Navy in September 1979.

IN TEXAS

Air Force Reserve Airman Timothy Brophy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brophy of 124 Westmoor Ave., Daly City, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs, and received special training in human relations. In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

He now goes to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., for specialized training in the aircraft maintenance field.

Airman Brophy is a 1975 graduate of Westmoor High School, Daly City.

ASSIGNED TO ILLINOIS

Airman Mike G. Bolte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolf G. Bolte of 57 Fieldcrest Drive, Daly City, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

Airman Bolte is a 1979 graduate of Westmoor High School, Daly City.

IN CUBA

Marine Lance Cpl. Lolecio D. Felise, son of Selestina A. Felise of 3942 Savannah Court, South San Francisco, is participating in a reinforcement exercise at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

He is a member of the 3rd Battalion, 6th Marines, 38th Marine Amphibious Unit, based at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The month long exercise involves more than 3,700 U.S. sailors and Marines. Marines from the 38th Marine Amphibious Unit were put ashore from three Norfolk, Va. based ships by landing craft and helicopters during an amphibious landing operation. Throughout the remainder of the exercise, the Marines will be conducting small unit maneuvers and artillery and tank firing while the Navy will practice sea control techniques.

The reinforcement exercise is being conducted to demonstrate the United States capability to reinforce the Guantanamo naval base and to show the U.S. interest in ensuring the free use of the Caribbean area.

A 1976 graduate of Balboa High School, Felise joined the Marine Corps in January 1977.

GRADUATED

Air Force Reserve Airman Kenneth P. Peeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peeler of 226 Alta Loma Drive, South San Francisco, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force jet engine mechanics course at Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois.

Graduates of the course earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Peeler learned how to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines. He is returning to Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

ARRIVES FOR DUTY

Sergeant Sarah L. Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hood Jr., of 1344 Hermosa Ave., Pacifica, has arrived for duty here at Nellis Air Force Base, Las Vegas.

Sergeant Hood, a public affairs specialist, was previously assigned at Laughlin Air Force Base, Texas, and is now serving with a unit of the Technical Air Command.

Reduced service

Due to a temporary power shutdown, the Peninsula Humane Society will operate on a reduced service basis on Dec. 19th.

TOYS FOR TOTS DRIVE

The Mills High School student body is collecting old but usable toys to assist the San Bruno Reserve Marine Corp's Toys for Tots drive. The student body is giving away a free large slush for every workable toy that is brought in. With some of the toys already collected are, kneeling from left, Terry Russell and Rob Bearman; standing from left, Terri Minuccianni, Ari Scheinman and Tara Ryan.

FAMILY VODVILL THEATER

Master magician Frank Franalli and singer/dancer Susan Keene will highlight the Family Vodvill Theater to be presented by the Daly City-Colma SkyLions Dec. 22.

Skylions theater show

Members of the Daly City-Colma Skylions Club are making preparations for the appearance of the internationally famous Family Vodvill Theater at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 22.

The show, a benefit for Skylions' projects, including development of a sports field for community youth, will be at the Daly City War Memorial Building on Mission Street.

Al Garibaldi, club president, along with Rino Ceccato and Jan Bantique, the co-chairmen of the show, have prepared invitations to the show for the families of the area.

The program will feature a full stage show of top entertainers in their field. Included are Frank Franalli, master of ceremonies, formerly with the Merle Haggard Show.

Along with a variety of other artists, there also will be singer/dancer Susan Keene, who experience includes television, films and stage.

The show is designed with the entire family in mind, and all the acts are presented with refinement and good taste.

Its proceeds will go toward the many Skylion philanthropic projects, which range from eye care and youth sports team sponsorship to development of a 23-acre site for use as an athletic field on which community youth can play soccer, baseball and football.

The field already has been fenced and graded, and seeding is expected to be completed this month. First use of the field, which is known as the "Savage site," on which the Jefferson Elementary School District once planned to build an intermediate school, is planned for next year.

Tickets can be obtained from any Skylion member or by calling 994-LION.

Plight of refugees is brought home

The plight of 600,000 starving and dying Cambodian refugees was brought to San Mateo Thursday, along with a plea for help from Joan Baez, who spoke to the San Mateo Rotary Club.

Miss Baez and Jeanne Murphy, founders of Humanitas/International Human Rights Committee, have launched a Bay Area-wide drive to raise $1 million for Cambodian Relief.

They told the Rotarians of the horror and devastation they witnessed when they traveled to Thailand, Singapore, Hong Kong and Malaysia to visit the refugee camps in October.

"While we were in Thailand, Cambodia literally burst at the seams," Miss Baez said, telling of masses of people fleeing the Pol Pot regime who crossed the border to escape imprisonment, torture and death.

"We are witnessing the genocide of an entire race," she said, "and it is impossible to describe the magnitude of the disaster."

"Our words and media coverage can't tell the story of the degree of human misery we saw," said Miss Murphy.

The Cambodian Emergency Relief

Fund, established by Humanitas, the San Francisco Examiner and KRON-TV, has received tremendous response from Bay Area residents.

Miss Baez, Miss Murphy and other spokespersons for the drive are making appearances before corporations, organizations and service clubs to generate more support.

"The enormous tragedy has faded to the back pages of the papers," Miss Baez claimed, and she is focusing attention on the problem.

"I don't enjoy making people miserable," she said, "but I want people to know that there is a way they can share. Not necessarily inconvenient, unhappy or sacrificial — it can make our lives fuller. People have been responding joyfully."

A lot has been said and written about Miss Baez's ideological stance on the Cambodian issue, which many have portrayed as a turn-around from her anti-war activities during the Vietnam War.

"A lot of people have said that this is not in keeping with my sentiments during the Sixties," she noted, "but in reality, my sentiments were not truly understood."

"I am a soldier of non-violence. The one thing that should be sacred to all of us is human life."

She said she has always used that approach "without any ideological yoke," but that others have placed that yoke on her shoulders.

"My activities against the United States government and what it was doing in Vietnam were based on a belief that the killing must stop. That killing never made any sense to me and none of it ever will," she declared.

Her remark drew scattered applause from the audience.

Now, she explained, people in Cambodia are suffering severe violations of human rights, and her attention has been focused on those people.

"I haven't made a turn-around in my politics; my politics are based on the sanctity of life," she said. "I have always spoken out for people I don't think have a voice."

She emphasized the importance of "someone of my ilk" speaking out in this instance, because she had some credibility with the Hanoi regime.

Her most recent activities on behalf of Cambodian relief, however, have resulted in her being "bounced from the Russians' good list to the bad list" and in accusations from the left that she is a CIA agent.

NEW ADVISORY BOARD

Advisory board at Mary's Help

Thomas Mellon, businessman and public servant, has been named president of the Mary's Help Hospital Community Advisory Board, according to an announcement by Sister Florence Urbine, D.C., president of the hospital Board of Directors.

Mellon has been a member of the Community Advisory Board since 1977.

Mellon retired after 38 years of service for West Electric Company where he was president. He then pursued an equally distinguished career in public service.

For 12 years Mellon served as chief administrative officer of the city and county of San Francisco. In addition, he has been a member of numerous commissions and boards, including the State Board of Education, the Fullbright Commission and the San Francisco Planning Commission. He also served as president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The Community Advisory Board, established in the early 1960s, is composed of community and business leaders who represent Mary's Help service area in southern San Francisco and northern San Mateo counties.

Six new members have been elected to the Board as of September 1979, bringing the total membership to 53. The new members are:

Gene Camous, who is a retired school teacher and is currently a consultant at Holy Angel's School in Daly City. The father of six children, Camous has resided in Daly City for 20 years.

Jack Donnellan, who is a mechanic for Pam Am Airlines and is active in many civic and community organizations, including the Transportation Workers' Union and "Friends to Teenage Parents."

Bill Dwyer, who is a retired certified public accountant and is currently active with Jet Leg Travel, Inc. He is formerly the chief accountant for the San Francisco Water District. Dwyer is a past director of the San Francisco International Airport and a former Deputy General Manager of the Public Utilities Commission.

Elio Fontana, who is the proprietor of V. Fontana and Co., a marble and cemetery headstone company. Fontana has been involved with the Jefferson Unified High School District, San Mateo Community College District and the County Board of Education. He also is a past president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce. Fontana is currently active on the San Mateo County Grand Jury.

Carl Hillsman, who is a retired insurance company manager and has made numerous contributions to civic and community organizations. Hillsman has served as the president of the Daly City Exchange Club, chairman of the Building Fund at St. Andrew's Catholic Church and president of the Marin County Life Underwriters. He is also the original organizer of the St. Andrew's Men Club in Daly City.

Rod MacDonnell, who is an advertising salesman. The father of seven children, MacDonnell is a member of National Agri-Marketing Association and has been active with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the San Francisco Advertising Club. He also is active in activities at St. Andrew's Church.

"We are very fortunate to have these distinguished community members join our board," said Sister Florence. "We are confident they will make outstanding contributions to both Mary's Help Hospital and the community's health care needs."

Bank sets a fund

A $2 million endowment fund to encourage excellence in education at state and independent universities in California has been established by BankAmerica Foundation in recognition of the bank's 75th anniversary.

The permanent endowment was announced by bank President A.W. Clausen, who said earnings from the fund will be distributed yearly as merit scholarships to more than 100 selected seniors.

"The program's purpose is two-fold," he said. "The bank wishes to recognize and to encourage excellence in education. It also wants to express its gratitude to California colleges and universities for providing the state with so many knowledgeable citizens and the bank with so many fine employees."

Clausen said the schools will select the student recipients and distribute and administer the scholarship funds. While there is no restriction in fields of study, the students must be California residents and have an accumulative grade point average (gpa) of 3.25.

Principal in her rookie year

By MARCO PANATTONI

Jefferson High School's new principal, Elizabeth Hall, began her rookie year as principal in the midst of the longest teachers' strike in California history.

The strike, along with the annual difficulties of student scheduling, staff placement and important filing, confronted the former head counselor with yet a bigger challenge.

"My interest was for students to receive the best education," she says with regret toward the strike. "Any disruption is hard for both the staff and the students."

"There was good will on both sides. I feel that there were very capable teachers in and out of school."

Ms. Hall was born and raised in the Bay Area, attended Fremont High, and went to college at U.C., Berkeley, majoring in English and minoring in French.

She then moved to Southern California, teaching school there for two years.

After returning to the Bay Area, she came to Jefferson and taught English and journalism. She was a Jefferson counselor for the past 20 years, putting in the last three as head counselor.

This will be her 35th year at Jeff. She says she enjoyed teaching and counseling very much because she likes helping and working with people.

"I was encouraged, and then convinced by some friends and fellow workers to submit an application," she said of her applying for the principal's position.

Eleven others submitted applications and each was interviewed by a committee made up of parents, teachers and administrators. That committee selected her and two or three others to be interviewed by another committee, which selected Ms. Hall to be principal.

She is replacing Rich Burt, principal for three years. He now is the principal of Westmoor High School, Daly City.

Dear Ann Landers:
Our daughter is 25 years old, attractive, has a
Doreen has seven men friends who talk out, but it seems that must be on the go & her life or she isn't
She thinks nothing of going alone or with another
if she has no dates.
Am I old-fashioned
I believe it is improper for young women to go unaccompanied to bars or cocktail lounge and become friendly with men they never saw before?
Doreen wants she and her girl friends have met

Sports draw people who have character

The notion that sports build character may be overworked. It may not even be true.

It may, in fact, be a more reasonable assumption that sports tend to draw people with character.

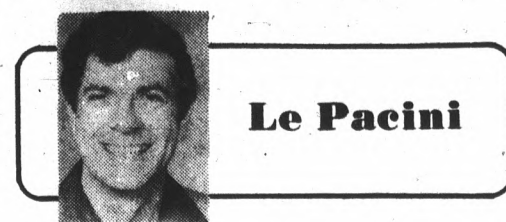

How else could you account for Marino Pieretti? Pieretti's fight against debilitating health has already been well chronicled in this space. By now you know that more than two years ago he was given a week to live and that he's still living. Not just surviving. Living. You know about the monthly luncheons his many friends have for him, celebrating another month of life.

I recently attended the latest of Marino's testimonials to guts. It was at Romano's in Pacifica, and Pieretti has started to draw the celebrities now. Lefty Gomez was there, having made the trek from his home in Novato. How many people do you know who could draw a Hall of Famer, with many other commitments throughout the country (paying ones), to a simple luncheon in Pacifica? Former San Francisco Chief of Police Donald Scott was there. So was Charley Barca, now retired, another former big-time cop from San Francisco.

Dante Bendetti, the owner of San Francisco's famous New Pisa Restaurant, the volunteer coach of the USF baseball Dons, the patron saint of amateur baseball in San Francisco, and a man Pieretti would beatify if he had, a vote with the Vatican, announced that Pieretti that day had been appointed pitching coach of the Dons, "for the same salary as I get."

Pieretti rose, with help from Frank Strazullo, the constant promoter of the luncheons, and Marino got a standing ovation, even from a few hardy souls who had been drinking Romanos' best spirits since way before the lunch had begun.

But "Chic" didn't tell his usual raucous joke, nor indulge in his expected unmerciful ribbing of buddies in the room. For the first time since the luncheons had begun, he was solemn. He tried to talk, but the words were choked back. Dino Restelli, the former Seal and irate who has spearheaded a drive to have a baseball field in San Francisco named after Pieretti, rose from the head table and explained to the assembly that Marino's wife, Flora, lay critically ill in Presbyterian Hospital, where Marino had lay so desperately ill two years before.

Then, haltingly, Marino was able to continue. "For two years," he said, "you've all been praying for me. Now I'm going to ask you to forget about me, and pray for my wife."

A simple speech, a simple request. Full of character.

For the past few years I've been contending that relief pitchers should be judged, not only on the games they win and save, but also on the games they lose or fail to save. Since, however, no records are kept on games failed to save, I have suggested that at least games lost could be subtracted from total wins and saves to get a more accurate reading of the most effective relief pitchers. Sometimes this method makes a difference between those who win "fireman" awards and those who are also-rans but maybe shouldn't be. This year, however, it made no difference.

Tied for major league honors as most effective relief pitchers under the Pacini Method are the Cubs' Bruce Sutter and Texas' Jim Kern, with 37 total points apiece.

There was then a big dip to Houston's Joe Sambito (23), Elias Sosa (19) of Montreal, and Mark Littell (18) of St. Louis.

So that you may further compare these top relievers, I've compiled a chart showing how many hits, runs, strikeouts and walks they each allowed per nine innings. I've thrown in the Giants' Greg Minton to give you an idea of the outstanding comparative job he did once he was installed as the Giants' prime righthanded short relief man later in the season.

	HITS	RUNS	K's	BB
Kern	6.3	1.58	8.6	3.9
Sutter	5.9	2.17	9.6	2.9
Sambito	8.8	1.78	8.4	2.4
Sosa	7.2	1.91	5.5	3.5
Littell	6.5	2.14	7.2	4.4
Minton	6.7	1.80	3.8	3.1

Minton, incidentally, pitched as many innings as Littell, so can be compared directly to him.

One of the shames of the season is the way baseball writers got on Atlanta relief pitcher Gene Garber for breaking a record for losses by a relief pitcher (16), while in Minnesota, Mike Marshall, who lost 15 in relief, for a much better team, was treated like a hero.

SUDDEN THOUGHT: When the Giants lost John Curtis, they not only lost a gentleman, a characteristic which is becoming rarer by the day in professional clubhouses, but also probably about 20 per cent of the team's total IQ.

San Francisco Channel 26 (UHR), otherwise known as KTSF-TV, pulled a Sampson and Goliath by gaining the rights to carry live the Garden State Bowl, which will feature, of course, Cal in its first bowl game since Joe Kapp took them to the Rose Bowl in 1959, against surprising Temple.

Through a complicated set of circumstances, and some luck, Channel 26 beat out Channels 4, 5 and 7, who had been vying for the rights to air the game.

It's Dec. 15 at 10 a.m.

Well, we see that college all-star selectors are up to their usual incongruous picks.

Like for instance, Cal quarterback Rich Campbell made one wire service All-Coast team (which theoretically, at least, takes in several conferences), made one wire service's all-conference team. And the man who beat Campbell out for the Pac-8 team, USC's McDonald, couldn't even make the All-Coast second team, being beat out by Stanford's Turk Schonert, who hadn't even gained honorable mention on the all-conference team.

The irony of the 49ers "fighting it out" with Detroit for the No. 1 college draft pick is that probably the greatest need for both teams is an explosive running back. Therefore, one of them figures to get only its second choice.

If what's wrong with the Warriors could be broken down to one statistic, remember that when they won the championship in 1974-75, and then were the winningest team in the NBA regular season the next year, they were the league's top pointmakers in both seasons. They since have been 4th, 15th and 21st, respectively, and this year are again near the bottom in scoring.

For anyone who would need further proof of the legitimacy of Keith Hernandez re: the National League MVP award, here are some statistics the Cardinals compiled.

Hernandez, a lefty swinger, hit .351 against righthanders, .335 against southpaws.

In "Opportunity to Advance Base Runners," the club average was 26 percent. Keith's was 46 percent.

In "Opportunity to Bat in Runs," the club average was 40 percent. Keith's was 53.

TAG END: The Giants represent the best immediate hope for fans of local major professional teams. Or have you forgotten what the Raiders, Warriors, 49ers and A's have been doing or are likely to do in the near future?

In County JC tourney

Dunham's slam sparks Trojans to title

Skyline College's 6-1 guard Tim Dunham can JUMP.

Midway through the second half of the Trojans' championship game against Menlo in the Canada County Basketball Classic Saturday night, forward Dave Lopp came up with a defensive rebound and fed Joe Belfrey to start a patented Skyline fast break.

Belfrey raced downcourt, pursued by a single Menlo defender, with Dunham as the trailer. Just as Belfrey entered the lane, he took a head fake to the basket to commit the Oak guard, then dished off a perfect waist-high pass to Dunham.

Dunham grabbed the ball and, in one motion, flew towards the basket, using all 36 inches of his vertical leap to slam the ball through the hoop and send waves of excitement through his teammates and Trojan fans.

The dunk gave Skyline a 48-41 lead — yet the Trojans had to hold on for dear life before claiming the tournament title with a 57-56 win.

Canada took third-place honors by virtue of a 65-44 victory over College of San Mateo.

"It's nice to win," said Belfrey. "We got our momentum going and capitalized on mistakes. Now I know, if we work hard and concentrate, we can play with the best in the state."

Despite the dunk, it still took a Lopp rebound of a missed Skyline free throw with nine seconds remaining to clinch the Trojan win.

As soon as the dunk was completed, with its reverberations still echoing throughout the gym, Menlo was beginning its comeback behind the patient, look-for-the-right-time outside shooting of Oak forwards

Mike Santos and Mike Lagarza. All of a sudden, the Skyline lead was cut to a single point.

It was then that Belfrey and Lopp went to work for the final onslaught. Belfrey was hot, particularly from 15 feet and out. It was from that outer range that Belfrey canned 12 of his 14 points. Lopp mixed it up, hitting from within and without, and reaching up for seven rebounds in addition to his 13 points. Dunham was the leader with 16 points.

Lagarza was Menlo's top shooter with 18, followed by Tim Sullivan with 12 and Marvin Penner with 11.

"I think the slam got us pumped up," said Trojan Coach Pete Pontacq. "Then Lopp and (Cyrus) Stuts had some key rebounds that made our fast break work."

The defense was working too. While the Oaks had difficulty penetrating the Skyline zone, they managed to stay close to the Trojans with some effective outside shooting. This was where Lagarza, in particular, was top-notch.

Then, in the second half, Dunham was assigned to dog Lagarza as part of a diamond-and-one defense. When Lagarza couldn't get open, Menlo had trouble scoring.

Lagarza, Dunham and Belfrey were selected to the all-tournament team, along with CSM's Darryl Hardaway and Canada's Mark Alger.

Alger, a Crestmoor High grad, had his biggest game in college to date.

Alger went for 17 points, grabbed nine rebounds and held his Bulldogs counterpart to just nine points in leading the Colts to their second win of the year (against two losses).

"The team opened it up for me on the inside, and I just tried to make my free throws," said Alger.

"Alger played damn good," said Canada Coach Bub Bowling. "He used his strength well. We needed a good game from him to help overcome the injuries to Tod (Sedlacek) and James (Williams)."

Sedlacek suffered a foot injury during Friday night's contest, and it was originally feared that the foot was fractured. Williams incurred a deep thigh bruise.

The Colts opened up the game after CSM knotted things at halftime 24-24. Isiah Thompson ran an effective fast break and Menlo-Atherton grad Gerald Dow, off the bench, gave Canada eight second-half points.

"We put a lot of defensive pressure on them in the second half," Bowling said. "That's something we're going to have to do this year — pressure and disrupt the opponent's offense — to make for our lack of height. Our pressure gave us more opportunity to run a fast break."

Hardway led CSM with 19 points.

Jefferson cagers runnersup at Serra

If things go according to expectation, Aragon and Mills high schools will meet in the finals of this week's El Camino Tournament to decide some basketball bragging rights.

If they meet in the finals, they will determine (a) the No. 1-rated team in the County, (b) the pre-league Mid-Peninsula League favorite and (c) a definite advantage when the two meet in what promises to be a closely fought MPL campaign.

Mills is coming off an easy title campaign in the Burlingame Lions' Club Tournament. And Aragon, though having a much tougher time, annexed its second straight Serra Tournament title with a 67-62 win over a good Jefferson team Saturday night.

Hillsdale, another of the fine MPL teams this year, downed host Serra 72-57 for third place. St. Joseph's won the consolation title with a 76-63 win over Menlo-Atherton, and Westmoor rallied to edge Carlmont for seventh place, 58-56.

It took a 10-point spurt to end the third period and 46 points combined from its guards, Ron Franklin and Ken Powell, for Aragon to finally subdue Jefferson.

Trailing 54-43 late in the third period, Aragon made its big move. First, Powell, who had an off shooting night, hit an eight-foot shot and added two free throws.

Then, Powell quickhanded a steal and passed to Franklin for a layup. Powell got another steal, which resulted in a Gary Williams follow shot. Williams was fouled on the play and had one shot.

The Jefferson players thought Williams had two shots, and when the first shot missed with 0:02 left in the quarter, Aragon's Mike Knox followed it in uncontested.

Aragon had scored 10 points in the final 1:39 of the period, and was now back in the game, behind by only one. That, along with the fourth foul on Jeff's Ernest Dupree (on Williams' basket), led to the Indians' demise.

With Dupree sitting on the bench with four fouls, Jefferson couldn't find anybody to score outside the Aragon zone. The Dons took full advantage.

And the main man was 6-0 senior Franklin. He scored six of Aragon's first eight points of the final period to put the Dons up 62-58. After Jeff missed a bonus free throw opportunity, Powell buried a 12-foot shot for 64-58.

Then the Indians came unglued. They committed four straight turnovers, never even getting up a shot. Powell, with a pass from Franklin, converted the fourth turnover into a bucket for 66-58.

Dupree returned and quickly buried an 18-footer. Powell then dribbled off almost two minutes from the clock, with a few fancy moves. Jeff had to foul now. And Aragon was able to make enough free throws down the stretch to stay comfortably ahead.

Franklin had a tremendous game for Aragon, finishing with 32 points. But MVP was named the tournament Powell.

"I had been cold through the first two games of the tournament," Franklin said. "But I felt good tonight. This really meant something."

"I said at halftime (Aragon trailed 38-32) that we're not playing like Aragon. It seems like in every game lately we've been down at halftime. Kenny and I pick up for each other. If I'm hot, I'll pick him and if I'm cold, he'll do the same."

Aragon Coach Ron Bolin was also at a loss to explain why Aragon has been able to (or had to) put on some fantastic spurts in the final half lately.

"It just seems like all of a sudden something lights up. I know the kids were tired tonight, both emotionally and physically. We had three hard games in this tournament," he said.

Bolin, a long-time lightweight coach at Aragon, is in his first year at the varsity helm.

"Each game I learn a little bit more. It's big jump from the lightweight level," he said. "The kids are tired and so am I. I'm exhausted."

Jefferson has nothing to be ashamed of. The Indians played well except for that stretch of 1:39 in the late third period. Dupree topped Jeff's attack with 21 points. Freddie Burks scored 16 and Ken Mackey added 13.

Hillsdale led Serra 50-44 entering the final period. A bucket by David Johns cut the margin to four. That was Serra's last gasp.

The young Knights ran off a 10-3 string to pull away from an 11-point lead. Four different Knights contributed to the run.

Serra was never able to contain Hillsdale's 6-10 junior center Nick Vanos, and — especially in the first half — he was the difference.

Vanos finished with 29 points (19 in the first half). 24 rebounds, five shot blocks and three assists. Gerry Gleissing, another junior, looked very smooth and tallied 15 for the Knights. Kevin Dunleavy and Johns scored 12 each to pace Serra.

St. Joseph's beat Menlo-Atherton for the consolation title. The Pilots threw a devastating press at the Bears in the second half, and outscored the Bears 43-23 to overcome a 40-33 M-A halftime lead. Dana Kelly scored 20 for M-A before fouling out.

Senior Keith Dowdell followed in Derrick Johnson's miss at the buzzer for a 58-56 Westmoor win. It was Dowdell's only bucket of the game. Johnson had tied the game with a 22-foot shot with 1:17 left and then forced a jump ball with 28 seconds left that resulted in the winning points.

Johnson, a unanimous all-tourney pick, scored 26 to top Westmoor. Bruce Nash had 19 and Rich Farley 17 for the Scots.

Pedro paces Terra Nova

SAN ANSELMO — Mike Pedro scored 34 points in leading Terra Nova High to a 71-64 win over Galileo of San Francisco to claim the consolation title in the Drake Invitational Tournament Saturday.

The Tigers rebounded from a 34-28 halftime deficit on the strength of Pedro's and Rich Belli's shooting accuracy.

Belli grabbed 16 rebounds in the game and consistently kept Galileo off the boards in the critical fourth quarter that saw Terra Nova outscore the City team 29-19.

"They (Galileo) got the tempo going," said Tiger Coach Gary Johnson. "We couldn't keep up with them in the first half. But then they started the second half with a four-corner offense. It shocked me. We used a combination defense on them, and were able to slow up the game enough to get our momentum going."

Belli got 10 of his 23 points in the final period for Terra Nova, while Pedro got nine of his total in the same period. Pedro, an all-tournament selection, scored 80 points in the three games.

"We've only played one bad game," Johnson said. "Otherwise we've been playing very well. There's a lot of balance in our league this year. It'll be interesting."

Terra Nova (3-2) will take a week off before visiting Mills Tuesday, Dec. 18.

Koo tops All-NPL volleyball team

Six seniors, led by repeater Sue Koo, have been selected to the All-North Peninsula League volleyball team.

NPL champion South San Francisco High placed hitters Jessica Despuies and Mimi Pe on the first team, while runner-up Westmoor was represented by Koo and Irene Giannoulis.

Irene Coster, the tallest member of the squad at 5-10 was named from Terra Nova, and setter Cheryl Shelmadine of El Camino round out the six-member first team.

VARSITY ALL-LEAGUE
senior: South SF — Jessica Despuies, Mimi Pe seniors: Terra Nova — Irene Coster senior, Westmoor — Irene Giannoulis, Sue Koo seniors.

Terra Nova girls win a cliffhanger

Whenever Menlo-Atherton High and Terra Nova clash in the Tiger Invitational — TN's own girls basketball tournament — you can always count on a good game.

M-A and Terra Nova played a cliffhanger with Terra Nova finally winning a 41-35 contest Thursday night.

Bishop O'Dowd from Oakland won the other semifinal game in the winner's bracket, blitzing Hillsdale 58-33, and will tangle with Terra Nova in the finals tonight at 7:30 at the TN gym in Pacifica.

Terra Nova had the height on M-A and led by veteran 5-11 Maryanne Juergens, 5-11 Irene Coster and 5-9 Nancy Juergens, ruled the boards.

Menlo-Atherton compensated with one of the County's fastest and quickest backcourts — with Angie White, Nina Spears and Brenda Romes. The 5-4 White, the tallest of the Bear trio, tanked 18 points for game honors.

TN broke open a tie game in the third quarter with a string of 17 points as Lorrie Diaz began to make a nuisance of herself in the Menlo-Atherton backcourt. Diaz, the Tiger point guard, sparked the drive with steals.

Karen Blanchard got hot from the outside and converted the steals for six points in the fourth quarter.

Scrappy M-A came struggling back and was one point down, 36-35, with 2:11 left. But a basket by Maryanne Juergens, free throws by Nancy Juergens and Diaz, and a swarming defense provided the difference.

Hillsdale couldn't get untracked against Bishop O'Dowd. The Knights would often crash five players on the boards and were left vulnerable to the fast break.

Elaine Williams tossed in 22 points mostly off of assists from Andrea Carradine. Darlene Robertson and Debbie Chen were the top Hillsdale scorers with nine points each.

In consolation bracket games Capuchino downed Crestmoor, 43-30, while Mercy decked Oceana 39-11.

The Falcons had a lid on their basket and suffered an 8-21 day from the floor. Sharon Chase was the Falcon's top scorer with 10 points.

Mercy's slowdown pace and precision defense kept Oceana scoreless for the first half. Nine Mercy Crusaders entered the scoring column topped by Kristi Fennelly's nine points.

Finocchio's sparks holiday season

FINOCCHIO'S of San Francisco is a high priority entertainment spot during the holiday season. Talented dancer RENEE deCARLO, formerly with the Ballet Folklorico of Mexico, is well known for his double cape dance, gorilla strip and exotic costumes. He's also a member of the EVE-ETTES, Finocchio's chorus line. A scrumptious Sunday Champagne Brunch is featured every Sunday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Barronshire Room of the SAN FRANCISCO AIRPORT HILTON. An array of hot and cold entrees, salads, desserts, pastries and fresh fruits makes it a memorable morning. If you're planning to attend the theater in San Francisco, enjoy dinner first at LEHR'S GREENHOUSE. It's a beautiful garden in full bloom featuring fabulous food at moderate prices. There is validated parking for dinner guests. The sophisticated DAL BAFFO European restaurant in Menlo Park was the recent setting for a birthday "luau" for several guests in honor of Peninsula socialite Mrs. Marian Neufeld, which was hosted by her husband, David Neufeld, famed in the automotive field. Owner/chef VINCENZO LO GRASSO roasted a whole suckling pig for the stellar occasion.

JIM SNIADOCKI, ex-49ers great and owner of SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S in Redwood City, was invited by R.C. Owens and Coach Bill Walsh to join some of the alumni of the 49ers for their out-of-town games. Because of the busy holiday season, Jim had to take a "rain check." If you've been battling the crowded shopping areas during the holiday season, then you'll appreciate the plentitude of free parking surrounding VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant. Give yourself a break, enjoy good food with no parking hassle. The bountiful buffet at THE KING'S TABLE in Redwood City is known far and wide for its budget saving low prices for plenty of food. Lunch offers nine hot entrees; there are 12 hot dinner entrees. When ordering dinner at THE CYPRESS HOUSE in Half Moon Bay, now under the ownership of HAEKUN CHOI and the management of hostess Shelley Adams, you get a choice of two soups, Gazpacho (chilled Spanish soup) or soup-of-the-day, or help yourself to the salad bar. A cozy place to hold an office Christmas party or any celebration is the intimate upstairs banquet/party room at LES JON'S in Burlingame. Groups from 10 to 60 can be accommodated.

Phil Lehr's has new Executive Room

Among the prominent dinner guests in the exclusive new Executive Room of PHIL LEHR'S Pay-By-Ounce STEAKERY, on the lower level of the S.F. Hilton Tower, the other evening, was Edward De Bartolo, owner of the San Francisco 49ers. Heads were swiveling at ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB in San Francisco when dapper Rex Harrison stopped by for a late supper following his performance in the hit comedy "The Kingfisher" at the Curran Theater across the street. Pizzas are perennially popular at ROMANO'S in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. More than 15 varieties are offered in three different sizes. Even a vegetarian pizza for those who prefer no meat in their diet. For an unusual Christmas dinner, consider TILLIE'S "LIL" FRANKFURT German and continental restaurant in Moss Beach. Owner/chef TILLIE SCHOLTZ is accepting reservations for a complete duck dinner for two (includes a liter of wine). Served family style. The OLD COUNTRY INN in downtown Burlingame is a relaxing haven for discriminating diners during the busy holiday season. Owners MARILYN and NATHAN SCHMIDT maintain their high level of gourmet quality and considerate service consistently.

Fads in foods may come and go, but fondness for favorite Chinese dishes goes on and on and accounts for consistent popularity of GONG'S Chinese restaurant in South San Francisco. Authentic Mexican cuisine is served in an authentic Mexican atmosphere at LA PINATA in downtown Burlingame. Personable CHRIS VLASSIS offers 15 combination plates and 15 super specials seven days a week. Although the hotel rooms at RAY PLUNKETT'S TAHOE MARINER hotel/casino at North Lake Tahoe were booked solid during the week, only 35 per cent of them included weekend guests with autos. Could be that travel by bus and air is picking up momentum. There's never monotony in the scenery or the dining selection when visiting any of the three restaurants (NICK'S, THE MOONRAKER and CAPTAIN CHARLES) owned/operated by the famed family of NICK and LORRAINE GUST and son CHUCK of Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Speaking of angels: Diana Lavine, Noreen Speier, and Carolyn Schaffer, who are on the staff of General Manager JIM RAINE at the GROSVENOR AIRPORT INN, South San Francisco, are collecting gifts and goodies from co-workers and others which they will deliver to the elderly residents of Laguna Honda Home in San Francisco as part of the Santa's Helper Program for the more than 1,000 needy there.

Al Sinor new head bouncer

By ROSIE TEJADA, MARCO PANATTONI,
BERNARD THOMAS and KAREN WONG

NEW ATTENDANCE SUPERVISOR

Al Sinor was a Jefferson High chemistry and biology teacher last year, a position he's held since 1968. This year, however, he is Jeff's "head bouncer."

Sinor is the attendance supervisor. His job is to clear the halls and get students to go to their classes. He also makes parent contacts and occasionally handles student discipline.

"I think of myself as more of a walking counselor than as a bouncer," he says. "It's hard dealing with students who want to avoid class. I try to modify their behavior."

"I taught chemistry for 11 years. I wanted to do something else," he comments. "However, my heart is still up in Room 206. I love that chemistry class, but I want to expand my experience in education beyond the classroom." (Sinor still holds his position as head of the Science Department.)

Sinor was born in Van Nuys and raised in San Francisco, where he attended Lincoln High and went to San Francisco State University, earning a bachelor's degree in biology and chemistry and a master's degree in administration.

He currently is attending USF, studying science literacy in San Mateo County in anticipation of receiving a doctor's degree. He plans to eventually work at the county level in curriculum planning after getting his doctorate.

Sinor began teaching in 1967 at Poly High in San Francisco. During the summer of 1968 he taught at Lowell High and came to Jeff later that year.

In his spare time, Sinor welds metals into art figures, which he sometimes sells. He also is a serious bird watcher.

Sinor can be seen riding his bicycle to Jefferson each school day. For the past two years, he has taken the six mile ride to and fro. "It's really a nice ride," he insists.

Sinor's new position was held last year by Frank Brady, who is now the head counselor at Jefferson.

STUDENT OF THE MONTH

Jose Nuila is the student government's choice as student of the month. Mr. December was chosen for his contributions to Jefferson, especially in sports.

Nuila, a senior, was a member of last year's NPL.

STUDENT OF THE MONTH

Jefferson High's Jose Nuila

championship varsity soccer team and this year's league champion varsity football team.

That championship soccer season brought the rookie goalie all league honors. He spent two of his three high school football years on the varsity squad as an all NPL tight end.

He made all league as a sophomore on the JV baseball team and will be entering his fourth year as third baseman for Jefferson this season. He also enjoys bowling and water skiing.

Jose and Luz Nuila, Jose's parents, are among the most influential people in his life. They urged him to continue his education, and Marcy Ballard, his freshman English teacher, helped him to do that.

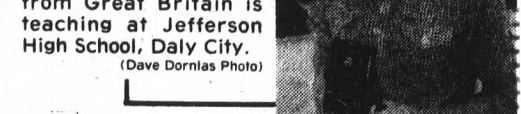

"In my freshman year, I was like a punk, but she helped me with my schoolwork and straightened me out."

Nuila is somewhat apprehensive toward leaving high school to take that "big step," yet he knows that step will be one toward maturity.

"Jose has a good head on his shoulders," commented close friend Marlene Murcia. "He's a great person."

TEACHER FROM GREAT BRITAIN

department. He taught at high schools and junior colleges in Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia, and Africa.

The Londoner firmly believes that American schools breed a more confident student, but they do not have enough respect for authority. European high schools, however, have higher standards and an advanced curriculum, which American students make up for in college.

Eldridge spends his leisure time running, hiking, visiting art exhibits, and just enjoying his family of three — Dawn, his wife of 15 years, and his two daughters, Ruchoe, 12, and Leahla, 9.

Eldridge will be in the United States until Sept. 1, 1980. He expects to return to England with a fresh insight toward teaching.

CLUBS

Clubs are getting Christmas together at Jefferson. International Club members went ice-skating Dec. 5. They, with some French classes, will be going to "Fleur de France," a French restaurant, for dinner Dec. 13.

Every year, CSF is able to visit a school because of their scholastic achievement. This year, this group of students has decided to visit the Stanford campus on Jan. 16.

After three years of non-existence, the Block J Club has formed again. Bud Bresnahan, the club advisor, states that this service club takes care of all the points needed for getting a Block J. Raising enough money to have picnics and other activities is a goal for those people who possess a J or two.

VARSIY FOOTBALL BANQUET

Jefferson's NPL champion varsity football team will be honored by the Jefferson Alumni Booster Club with a banquet tomorrow night at Jefferson.

John Madden, former Oakland Raiders head coach and a 1954 Jefferson graduate, will be guest of honor. Sports columnist and Jeff teacher Le Pacini will emcee.

A story showing both spirit and dedication

By ARVILLE FINACOM

Back in the early 1960s when I first met Gene Van Duyn he was teaching Sunday school. Today, he's principal of Meadows School in Millbrae and the story of the years between show something of both his spirit and dedication.

Van Duyn admits to having given little thought to a teaching career until slow-down in his trade as a brewery worker threatened lengthy layoffs. With a wife and two young daughters to support, Van Duyn needed something more secure.

He liked his work with Sunday School students at Calvary Lutheran Church in Millbrae. He found he could talk easily with young people and he enjoyed watching them grow and develop.

His decision made, Van Duyn enrolled at San Francisco State College. Previously, he had completed two years of community college work. What lay ahead was three years of full-time classes — two to get a bachelor's degree and another one to secure a teaching credential.

Even though his wife was working part time, Van Duyn continued to work full time at the brewery, working night shifts there and attending college classes during the day.

At the time, the Van Duyns lived in San Bruno, but their girls went to school in Millbrae. Van Duyn did his student teaching in San Bruno but was very pleased when Burt Cowan, then principal at Meadows School, offered him a job.

Van Duyn accepted and spent 10 happy years at Meadows teaching fourth, fifth and sixth grades. He also continued work at San Francisco State towards his administrative credential.

Van Duyn taught in and later administered summer school sessions for the elementary school district.

He had the dubious distinction of being the last summer school principal before budget cutbacks forced cancellation of summer classes. Currently he anticipates being co-coordinator with Principal Dean Edwards of Green Hills School of the proposed 1979-80 summer school session.

Provisions of Assembly Bill 8 state that school districts must offer students an opportunity for remedial work during the summer. Van Duyn hopes enrichment classes also will be available.

Following his classroom time at Meadows, Van Duyn spent two years as administrative assistant at Taylor Intermediate School, working first with then principal Dean Edwards and later with current Taylor administrator Mal Blum.

Although he enjoyed seeing and working with children in another age group, he admits to missing Meadows. When Meadows principal Burt Cowan announced his retirement last spring, Van Duyn was considered as his replacement. Appointment followed and this fall he returned to Meadows to work with a staff of 26 teachers and support people in providing educational experiences for 264 students.

In addition to its regular kindergarten through sixth grade classes, Meadows School houses three special programs which Van Duyn also administers. There is a Learning Development group taught by Dennis Hansen. Florence Snyder teaches a class of educationally handicapped youngsters which includes not only Millbrae students but ones from Burlingame and San Bruno as well. Another inter-district agreement permits Sophia Conley's Educable Mentally Retarded class to include San Bruno children as well as those from Millbrae.

In Van Duyn's view, Meadows School is an ideal place for these special groups since the Meadows community, parents, students and teachers, became accustomed to such special education classes during the years when the County Office of Education leased space at Meadows for them.

At Meadows, cross-age tutoring helps the special children ease readily into regular classroom groups. Van Duyn acknowledges how exceptionally tolerant and accepting the Meadows School community is. He says he believes part of this may be due to the fact that the Millbrae School District Psychological Services Center also is at his school.

Van Duyn admits to missing classroom contact with students. He's solved the problem in a way satisfactory to him, the students, and the staff. Paper work and other non-student related activities he leaves for times when there are no children on campus. During class hours, he mingles — on the playground, in the corridors and within classrooms.

He visits classes quite regularly, reading to students, doing individual tutoring as needed, even bringing an accordion to play and leading songs. Although there are times when he must be a disciplinarian, the regular contact with students helps them to see him in a non-threatening role. He also gets to know them far better.

Meadows School Advisory Council has stressed both structure and discipline as prime ingredients in its recently developed three year proposed school improvement plan. Van Duyn concur. He speaks about a recent meeting open to the entire community at which some other priorities were listed.

There is much interest in foreign language instruction. Many expressed an interest in cultural experiences for children — field trips to places not conveniently visited by individuals or families in the course of their daily lives.

There also was discussion of more manipulative kinds of learning — "hands on" experience for students in all grade levels. Van Duyn thinks this might find expression in a gardening project, one in which learning and experience not only are tied together but the end result can be both a product for and a service to the school and the larger community. Van Duyn also mentioned a community wish for some sort of acknowledgment to students of the existence and influence of a supreme being.

Van Duyn considers himself very fortunate as far as community involvement is concerned. Meadows has a very active PTA headed by JoAnn Obler. Several of the paid educational aides are from the Meadows area and the school volunteers, including three retired people, also live in Millbrae. The 8 percent of students who are limited in their ability to speak English are eager to learn. Van Duyn also appreciates his staff which shares in decision making at all appropriate times.

In addition to his tasks at Meadows, Van Duyn is the district administrator assigned to handle the California Assessment Program, state testing as it is commonly called. One

It may seem a long way from the hops and yeast of a brewery to the ferment and stew of a school situation, but Gene Van Duyn and series has already been accomplished districtwide this Fall. In the spring, Van Duyn will direct the testing of all third and sixth graders.

the parents and staff who have worked with him these past 12 years are mighty glad he made the decision to switch from brewing beer to teaching children.

AWARD

Marlene Espinoza of Daly City, patient service representative at the Guadalupe Health Center in Daly City, will be one of six persons to receive awards from the Cindy Smallwood Medical Education Financial Assistance Foundation this Saturday. The other winners are: Beatrice Cardenas-Duncan, an aide to state Sen. Milton Marks; H. Welton Flynn, a San Francisco Public Utilities commissioner; Lawrence Neblett, a San Francisco obstetrician; Sandy Ouye, a dietician at San Francisco's Presbyterian Hospital; and Carolyn Reilly of San Francisco's assessor's office. The awards will be presented at an 11:30 a.m. luncheon at 2121 S. El Camino Real in San Mateo.

The overweight dog woes

By Dr. David R. Barnett
Question: Our dog, Sammy, is beginning to have a weight problem and I was wondering if we shouldn't start counting calories for him?

Everyone in our family is a calorie-counter because we like to eat and put on weight easily. He's 9 years old and reasonably active and weighs about 60 pounds.

We have calories scales and can measure everything he eats — even people-food.

How many calories does he need a day?

M. N.

Answer: The large breed dogs require about 25 calories per pound of body weight per day. If your dog is at his proper weight he would need 1,500 calories per day.

The small breed dogs (10-20 pounds) require 35-40 calories per pound per day.

If your dog is overweight I would suggest feeding him 25 percent less than the dog food manufacturer recommends.

Table scraps should be eliminated from the dog's diet and the dog should exercise more often to burn off calories.

Question: How can you tell if a cat is getting deaf? Missy is almost 12 years old and seems to have a hard time hearing. We thought at first she was just indifferent, but now we suspect the worst. What happens to them if they have a total hearing loss? We'll do anything for her, but need some good advice now.

K. G.

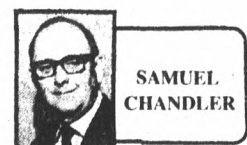

Answer: It is very difficult to determine if a cat is deaf. You can clap your hands behind her back to see if she responds to loud noises. Also, a veterinarian can check the ear canals to determine if there are any physical abnormalities.

Usually the best way is to rattle the food dish behind her to see if she can hear that. If she doesn't respond to that stimulus you can be pretty sure she is deaf.

Cats with total hearing loss can function very well if confined to the house. If allowed to go outside they are at a disadvantage because of the danger from automobiles, etc.

In my opinion all cats should be confined inside — this would reduce many diseases and injuries that they suffer from the environment.

The bookshelf

Living in the danger

"Where You Live May Be Hazardous to Your Health!"

In San Francisco the average annual level sulfur dioxide in micrograms per cubic meter is 7, far below the danger level (U.S. Standard) of 80.

In Los Angeles the average annual level stands at 52.

In Salinas it is 12, in San Jose it is 5.

Sulfur dioxide and particulate pollution can modify the weather, block out sunshine and fill the rain with acid that ruins crops.

In San Francisco the number of unsafe hourly readings per year of oxidant in the air pegged at zero, while in Walnut Creek it sits at 162. In San Diego the oxidant level reached or exceeded danger level nine times to San Francisco's 4 and Los Angeles' 15.

By comparison with other cities, San Francisco's air seems to be quite pure. But in San Francisco the wind speed is 10.5 miles per hour, near the top of the national range of 4.7-14.4. In Los Angeles the wind speed averaged 6.2 miles per hour. Even Oakland has less wind than San Francisco. There the average wind speed per hour was 8; 2.5 less than San Francisco.

San Francisco has few weeds to cause allergens, while San Diego and most of the cities in southern and eastern California have to contend with ragweed and sagebrush. But San Francisco has many grasses and many trees that are major allergens.

It is not the climate, however, that gives San Francisco bad marks in Robert Shakman's health index to over 200 American communities "Where You Live May Be Hazardous To Your Health." Stein, $5.95. San Francisco has 643 violent crimes per 100,000 population. That number is 246 more than the national average of 397. With 85, Los Angeles is the only California city to exceed San Francisco's number of violent crimes.

San Francisco's incidents of property crime per 100,000 population is listed by Shakman at 4,362, compared to the national average of 2,431. In San Diego property crimes equals 3,083 per 100,000 population; in San Jose the number is 3,464 incidents; in San Bernardino it listed at 3,967. Oakland's number is 4,362, while Los Angeles with 4,578 is slightly more than that in San Francisco.

More than any other factor that Shakman could isolate, crime makes California cities, indeed all the cities of the United States, unhealthy places to live. In cities as peaceful as Modesto and Monterey the crime rate far exceeds the national average. The same thing is true of Great Falls, Montana, and Atlanta, Georgia. In Boston, New York City, Chicago, Detroit and Dallas, violent crime is more harmful than pollution, natural disasters and allergens.

"Where You Live May Be Hazardous To Your Health" is a volume that deserves everyone's attention. Besides the charts that rate 200 cities, the book contains eight chapters that discuss such topics as air pollution, allergies, climate, altitude and natural disasters.

Chapter 7 is an attempt to clear up some misconceptions about a healthy place to live, while Chapter 8 presents instructions for making a personal health index.

THE DIET CORNER

By ELISE GENDAR

It's not a bad idea to decorate your dinner plate with the colors of the season.

Well, maybe you can't indulge in a bright red vegetable — tomatoes being rather a plastic pink in the dead of winter. And once you've served the beets, where do you go?

But a dark green vegetable balanced with an orange or yellow one will brighten the table and do a lot for your family's nutrition at the same time.

Considering the fact that every visitor to home and office comes equipped with a personal version of the virus of the season, it is important these dark December days to be concerned with the vitamins and minerals that you are feeding your family.

And I hope you are feeding them to your family — relying on what nature provides rather than what your drugstore sells. Vitamin supplements play a part in therapy for the malnourished, but you play a bigger part if you see that no one around your table eats himself into such a state. Color is an excellent clue to the food value of the side dish.

Consider the acorn squash — an overlooked yet thoroughly respectable addition to any menu. Bright orange meat — that means loads of Vitamin A. And that means keeping the skin healthy and helping the eyes at night. It also means an easy dinner preparation — just cut a small acorn squash in half, scoop out the seeds, sprinkle with your favorite seasoning and bake at 350 until tender.

Reflect also upon the virtues of deep green spinach. Now that lettuce has paled into winter drabness, fresh spinach is a worthy successor as a salad green. Tenderly washed, carefully dried, decently dressed with a low calorie dressing — deep green and cold against the warmth of the orange squash — beautiful sight, nutritionally perfect.

A perfect type of dish will contain both the green and the red orange of it. Would you believe Aunt Sally's Stew?

AUNT SALLY'S STEW

1 lb. lamb cut into cubes
1 c. French string beans
1 c. mushrooms
1 c. green pepper, cut pieces

1 c. zucchini, cut chunks
1 ounce onions, sliced
1 ounce carrots, sliced
2 ounces tomatoes, sliced
1 c. V-8 juice (optional)
salt, pepper, paprika to taste

Broil lamb until lightly brown on all sides. Place in an earthen casserole. Wash and prepare vegetables. Mix vegetables all together, add to meat. Cover tightly. Bake in slow 325 degree oven for 1-1.2 hours or until tender.

Your eyes guide you through the nutrition maze. Color sense is for more than decorating a room. Come to think of it, nature often uses color for her own purposes when she adorns flowers so that they attract the insects needed to pollinate them — and when the insects find themselves responding to color because it leads them to food. Maybe we should learn a little from the lower species. If it looks pretty, it's a pretty good bet that it's good for us as well.

TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS

KAREN WILLIAMS
Age 13
San Mateo, California

Karen is in the eighth grade at Turnbull. She likes water skiing, horseback riding and plants. Karen has one brother, Brian. She writes:

Christmas means, to me at least, family gatherings, hot eggnog, and candles in the window surrounded by holly. It also means Christmas trees with pretty decorations and mistletoe in doorways. There are presents under the tree and cards on the mantel. On street corners you can hear and see Christmas carollers singing songs. On Christmas morning you get a good feeling when mother, father or other relatives opens the gifts you spent hours selecting, exclaiming, "This is what I've always wanted!" Even if they already have 15 of them.

Photographs of winners and their winning entries in the Times Christmas Letter Writing Contest on the subject, "What Christmas Means to Me," are appearing daily in this space, Nov. 23-Dec 19. No more entries will be accepted after the Nov. 30 contest deadline.

Each day a boy and a girl winner is selected on the basis of ideas, thought in presentation and sincerity. Each winner receives two tickets to the "Nutcracker" performance of the Peninsula Ballet Theater. Two grand prize winners will each receive $25 in cash and a 15-volume set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedia.

"What Christmas Means To Me!"

STEVE KITCHEN
Age 10
Redwood City, California

Steve is in the fifth grade and goes to Taft School. He likes to color, likes animals and is interested in school reports. Steve has two brothers, David and Danny. He writes:

Christmas means to me the birth of Christ and is the time above all others when people turn to their family and thoughts toward home. The tree and the holly, the warmth of family and friends creates a beautiful emotion that whenever Christmas is near makes us all aware of all the love around us at this beautiful time of year.

Christmas is a feeling that is seen in people's faces heard in children's voices giving with our presents and most of all expressed in the music that fills our hearts and the music new and old, solemn and gay, reverent and light, but all of it is brimming with the spirit of the joyous season in every note.

Christmas fills us with memories of childhood, and warm fires and the brisk crackle of the December weather. The pre-Christmas minutes that fly by for the adults and creep for the children as the Christmas magic grows, filling the air with joy and love.

Parents meet with the teachers

By ROBIN MOELLER
Serramonte High School
Last Thursday was Back to School Night at Serramonte, giving parents a chance to meet the teachers. The set-up was similar to last year's. All the teachers were gathered in the main gym, sectioned off by department. Back to School Night was held in the evening from 7:30-9.

The 12th grade test, which was required for graduation, was given last Thursday. The test was 30 minutes long and was given from 8:30-9 a.m. All class periods were shortened by 15 minutes, except lunch.

All the lunch tables from outside the cafeteria have been removed from Serramonte. This is reportedly due to the fact that many people have been cutting and using the benches during class periods.

The Latinos Unidos Club at Serramonte has started up again this year. It elected its class officers last Wednesday.

Candidates running for Serramonte freshman class offices had their picture taken last Thursday. They will be put up on the windows near the treasurer's office, along with a short summary on their qualifications and goals. The only office no one petitioned for was the office of freshman class secretary.

As of Dec. 4, only 150 yearbooks had been sold and 400 had to be sold by Friday, the next day, in order for the books to have hard covers.

The yearbook staff is in debt $4,000.

Members of the yearbook staff and executive board went around to the various classrooms Thursday during seventh period to urge students to purchase yearbooks. It didn't look promising, however.

Ms. Christensen, the yearbook advisor, said that unless a lot of books were sold on Friday, the last date of purchase would not be extended — not even to Monday.

The CSF (California Scholarship Federation) was told that they could not have any field trips this year.

Field trips to the various colleges is one of the main functions of the CSF club. The club was going to hold a meeting to decide what it would do. The ruling was then changed, however, reportedly due to protests.

The CSF now will be able to hold field trips to the closer colleges. The club voted to go to the University of California, Davis, but there is at the present a distance limit and Davis is outside the distance radius.

The Woodshop Club at Serramonte had its first meeting of the year Dec. 5. Mr. Shepler, the woodshop teacher, is the club advisor.

The Serramonte soccer team had its first game this year Dec. 4. The Varsity and JV soccer teams had games against Mills.

The Serramonte PTSA meets on the third Thursday of each month in the Teachers Room at 7:30 p.m. Anyone is welcome to join and participate.

PTSA stands for the Parents Teachers Students Association. Membership in the Serramonte PTSA is $1.50 and helps support such projects as the recent Senior Breakfast. President of PTSA is Mrs. Ruth Galindo; Vice Presidents are Mrs. Marion Conser and Leslie McNeil; Secretary, Liz McNeil; Treasurer, Mrs. Betty Schultz; Auditor, Mrs. Jane Abdulla;

Historian, Janet Conser; Parliamentarian, Geri Hardy.

This year's Serramonte High School administration consist of: Al Campbell, acting principal; Mrs. Laurie Cahill, vice-president of Guidance; Frank Terranova, vice-president of operations.

Counselors are Byron Chan, juniors; Mrs. Sue

Haun, freshmen; Ms. Juli Jansen, seniors; Loyd Silberstein, sophomores.

Special service personnel are: Mike Rueda, attendance supervisor; Rich Morosi, student activities; Mrs. Anne Kirk, librarian; Mrs. Phyllis Colbert, school nurse; Mort Postrell, psychologist.

The student store, which just opened this year, is selling mainly candy.

The cafeteria is open for service fifth period. There is available to all students a Type-A hot lunch or a box lunch. The snack bar provides many different types of items, such as sandwiches, ice cream, chips, pizza, soft drinks, etc.

Senior class make-up pictures are being taken this week at Serramonte.

YAMAHA When you know how they're built

Your "Rich Uncle Sam" is rich enough.

Keep more tax dollars for your retirement.

It's tough to save for the future when taxes take so much of your income — and interest earnings, too. Thank goodness, you have a wise financial friend. Citizens Savings, to help.

Save for retirement...save taxes!

For people not covered by an employer pension fund, Citizens offers an IRA (Individual Retirement Account) Plan.* Your nestegg will grow dramatically faster than in a regular savings account, because deposits and interest-earnings are entirely tax-deferred until you begin to withdraw funds at retirement. Each year, you may contribute up to $1,500, or 15 percent of your annual income, whichever is less. And, if your spouse is unemployed, you may contribute up to even higher limits.

If you receive pension funds from a former employer, these can be rolled over into an IRA with the same remarkable tax advantages.

Are you self-employed? Save bigger, faster!
A KEOGH (HR-10)* retirement program gives tax-deferred income and interest benefits with the ability to set aside up to $7,500, or 15 percent of your annual income, whichever is less. (And if you're in a 50-percent tax bracket, we can show you how a "Defined Benefit" Keogh can help you defer taxes on even more money each year.)

More help from Citizens.
In addition, Citizens keeps retirement plan customers up-to-date on legislation and IRS rulings affecting their IRA and KEOGH savings programs with timely newsletters. You'll receive a quarterly statement showing the exact status of your account. And for a low fee, Citizens can even prepare your state and federal income tax returns. You work too hard for your money to give so much to a "Rich Uncle." Save more for yourself — with a Wise Financial Friend.

*A nominal yearly trustee fee will be charged.

Whoo...is your wise financial friend?

Important Note Regarding Prices

The prices shown in the right-hand column on each page of this catalog are for reference only, and no representation is made to the effect that any of these prices is the usual or ordinary price at which a particular item is sold, or our present or former selling price. These reference prices are provided to you as a guide to the range of retail selling prices in our catalog distribution area. They are often useful in identifying different units of the same manufacturer.

Most of the prices shown in the right-hand column are manufacturer's suggested retail prices supplied to Consumers Distributing. Where manufacturers do not supply suggested retail prices, Consumers Distributing has applied to its cost mark-up percentages based on trade customs (which commonly vary with respect to various types of items) to arrive at a price which it considers to be in accordance with customary trade practices. In any event, these prices may vary in different trading areas depending on shipping and other costs and circumstances which might affect such a price.

No user of this catalog should assume that a savings will be effected or realized in an amount equal to the difference between the figure in the right-hand column and the Consumers Distributing price. In some cases, other retailers may be selling goods at prices equal to or less than Consumers Distributing price for the purpose of clearing goods which are end-of-line or stale merchandise, or by reason of their ordinary business practices.

- All prices are subject to change without notice due to manufacturer's increases or decreases, changes in federal or state taxation or world fluctuations of currencies or the prices of gold, gems and precious metals.
- We're only human so the occasional error may slip through. We are not responsible for typographical and transpositional errors.
- If ever temporary shortages of our advertised items occur, you are assured the special price on a resupply, or comparable savings on a similar item with a similar dollar value.
